

PUBLIC LEDGER

FIFTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1896.

ONE CENT.

"CALAMITY JIM."
He was windy, wild and woolly; he was
gruesome, gray and grim;
He long had "bucked" misfortune that we call him "Calamity Jim."
The world's been crossed, and he Just went the same way.

In a hand to mouth existence—living right up to his name.

He howled about the weevil and he swore
about the fly.

Said God he'd colored color when he put so much in the sky.

Grew old about the weather, complained of
too much rain;

Said the frost would kill the peaches and the rain would spoil the grain.

Salt supplies had grown too plenty and prices
goes so low.

That man on the face of this old earth didn't have half a show.

He hated pecky cyclers, and the brand "new world" was his.

So jarred upon his feelings that it almost drove him mad.

He was down on "corporations," said labor
had no chance;

Yet all the while he preached it he kept polluted water!

Said the world of wealth should "divvy" in a socialistic way.

"The" way things should be surely he was never heard to say.

He "lined" with each new party that came into the scene.

And in his bald language said he bust the old machine

Of all the other parties into everlasting turmoil.

But up to date of writing we have not heard
the crash.

And then the silver bubble, with its irides-
cent gleams,

So wrought upon his fancy that from one to another droves he.

Distressed in mighty slumber, till he murmured in his sleep

"Bout "ration"—"unit"—"values"—till it a-
most made him weep.

And still he talked FreeSilver till he raved against the gold.

And kept right on talking till he wore out
one good hug;

He vanquished all opponents; at sight of him
they'd fly.

And then he called for Kansas to steer her people on die.

He reached his destination—for the truthful
people say

That he interviewed a cyclone, and in his impressive way

Grabbed that reform appendix—the argument was hot;

And when the fracas ended, "Calamity" was not.

—Chris. Van Deventer.

noon and at Firebrick at night. Lewis

Kinley and Pugh.

Yesterday morning as a freight train was passing the foot of Market street
Mr. Philip Wheeler's dog Faust ran out in front of the engine and began to bark at it, as he was used to do at the street-cars. The streetcars would stop until the dog was gotten out of the way; but he barked at the wrong car, and the wheels
kept on turning and caught poor Faust, crushing his two hind legs in such a horrible manner that he died a few moments later.

At Sunnyside, the beautiful home of the bride-elect at Dover, will occur on Wednesday, October 21st, at 6 p.m., the marriage of Miss Anna Augustus Osborne and Mr. Daniel Holton Lloyd.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Mr. Charles K. Berry to Miss Ella Lee
Perkins, both of L. W. Isbister. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M.
Perkins, on Wednesday evening, October 28th. The groom is a brother of Professor William T. Berry of this city.

Mr. L. P. Tarlton of Frankfort will address the people in the interest of Republicanism at the Courthouse Tuesday evening, October 29th. This meeting will be held jointly with Hon. E. B. Wilholt, Sound Money candidate of the National Democrats for Elector from this District. Everybody cordially invited.
Both gentlemen are eloquent speakers.

The Darlington, W. Va., Journal says
editorially of a popular patent medicine:
"We know from experience that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea will be all that is claimed for it, as on two occasions it stopped exacerbating pains and possibly saved us from an untimely grave. We would not rest easy over night without it in the house."

That was before Sam was known.
And the next day it began raining.

Sam grew weary and began to show signs of intoxication.

He went to Cincinnati by river, got off
the steamer at the Big Sandy Wharf
at that city, stole a nice-looking trunk
that was handy, got back on the steamer,
came back to this city and stopped off
with his baggage.

He came up town and was given his choice between the rock quarry and other quarters somewhere outside of this city.

He accepted the latter, and boarded the Silver Wave for Vanceburg.

On the way up he opened the trunk by removing one of the hinges of the lid, and upon opening it he found a very valuable collection of Italian cooking utensils—nothing more.

In the meantime the Big Sandy Packet Company had telegraphed Captain Phister
to arrest the Negro, but he had fled.

One of Sam's favorite subjects to preach on is "Seven Steps to Hell," and in all of his appearances he has taken in all of them and is now ready to step right into the fiery pit, he has already gone

He is the most impudent Negro that I have been around here for some time, and there will be no tears shed over his late stroke of good luck, as such an impostor
should be put out of the way.

A "Rousing Service" would be the best characterization that could be applied to the Men's Rally yesterday afternoon in the C. M. A. Hall. Nearly every seat in the Hall was occupied, and several stood throughout the service. Rev. F.
W. Harrop held the close attention of his audience while he gave in plain and practical statements an intensely earnest address on the necessity—for every young man—of having a definite aim in life. A violent duel was rendered by Mr. G. S.
Judd and Miss Jessie Judd contributed much to the pleasure of those present, and all seemed to enter into the spirit of the many beautiful hymns which were heartily sung. The faithful organist, Mr.
R. L. Hoeflich, was assisted by the clarinet, played by Mr. Lee B. Gray. Next Sunday Prof. W. T. Berry will give the talk, and a good program will be arranged.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors, postponed from Wednesday
last, will be held in the Association quarters this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Several matters of importance will be considered.

You Have

An old-fashioned key-winding watch that belonged to your father—perhaps your grandfather--and would like to wear it but for the annoyance of searching for a key every time you want to wind it.

I can reconstruct it so that you can preserve the old watch with all its associations and at the same time enjoy the use of a modern stem-winding watch.

A BAD ACCIDENT.

Mr. Fred Arn received a broken collar bone yesterday.

Yesterday morning Mr. Fred Arn, who resides on Railroad street, a short distance West of Carmel street, in the Sixth Ward, met with a very serious and painful accident while milking a cow.

Mr. Arn was seated on his stool at his work, when the cow became frightened at something and whirled around suddenly, striking him and throwing him to the ground, he falling in such a man-
ing it and severely bruising himself otherwise.

A physician was summoned, who set the broken member and made him as comfortable as possible.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA@AMERICANS!

"I believe that it is a good deal better to open up the Mint of the United States to the world than to have the Mint open up the mint of the United States to the silver of the world."—WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

"By the eternal! We will see who is going to rule—the money power or the people!"—Andrew Jackson.

The Popocatetl Bulletin and some other hypocritical howlers have been printing and commanding the above utterance of "Old Hickory." They forgot. When ANDREW JACKSON said this he was making "the fight of his life" against flat money and in favor of Gold! He was leading the battle against the paper money of the United States Bank, and in favor of a gold currency. Suppose the gentlemen turn back to 1834 and consult the history of that interesting period.

WISDOM FROM MCKINLEY.
Major McKinley in his masterly introduction to the great work on the Tariff, "Protection and Prosperity," says:

The world knows of the wonderful progress we have made. The experience of the United States in diversifying industries and developing its home market has contributed more or less to the growing disregard for the maxims of schoolmen and theorists and increased the value of the unimpeachable testimony of trade and experience.

The Hon. Mr. Curtis's work practically covers the history of the world's trade and commerce. The author has undoubtedly devoted years of patient research to gathering and arranging his material and presenting his argument. After a careful examination of the results of this stupendous piece of work the fair-minded American student and reader will close the book with the conclusion that in our own American policy we have nothing to take back, nothing to apologize for. Under similar conditions our experience has been precisely the same as the experience of our neighbors. In some ways it has even been England's experience. A low Tariff or no Tariff has always increased the importation of foreign goods until our money ran out; multiplied our foreign obligations; produced a balance of trade against the country; supplied the domestic producer and manufacturer; impaired the farmer's home market without improving his market abroad; undermined domestic prosperity; depressed the industries of the Nation; diminished the value of nearly all our investments; and invested and rotted labor in foreign lands. The lower the Tariff the more widespread and aggravated have been these conditions which paralyze our progress and industries. This is the verdict of our history, and as the author of this valuable work demonstrates, with a clearness that should carry conviction, it has been the verdict of history in the case of other Nations, if facts and figures may be relied upon to point out such results.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A man's health is her deepest possession, good looks, good temper, love and affection are all dependent on her health. Almost all the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to the derangement of the organs of the female. The Ledger's Leaflets—No. 26.

It may be of interest to those who have been deluded by the misleading and sometimes false statements of Mr. Bryan's speeches to see how wide of the facts they are and how completely they are impeached by official statements. To this end, both to supply the reader with answers to his specious statements and to show their misleading and deceptive character, some attention will be given during the next few days to certain of the statements of his public addresses.

"If you think you have hard times, what would it be if these same influences succeeded in driving India to a gold standard, if they should succeed in suspending the free coinage of silver in India?"—Toledo Speech.

Free coinage of silver in India was suspended in 1893, and is still suspended. This action was taken on the recommendation of a commission on the currency, appointed on the recommendation of the Council of the Government of India. The Mints of India were closed to silver on June 26th, 1893, with the avowed purpose of eventually establishing a single gold standard. They still remain closed to silver, no silver coins except small fractional currency having been coined at the Mints of India during the years 1894-95, most of this being recoinage of uncirculated coins and foreign coin.

"Wage-earners know that while a gold standard raises the purchasing power of the dollar, it also makes it more difficult to obtain possession of the dollar."—Madison Square Garden Speech.

The report of the Committee of the United States Senate, of which his silver associate, Senator Jones of Nevada, was a member, and whose report is accepted by all parties as accurate, shows that the earnings of labor have steadily increased since 1873, the date at which he claims the United States went to a gold standard. The report of the Aldrich Committee shows the average wages of labor in 1891 were materially higher than they were in 1873 when the figures for that date are reduced to a gold basis, while the dollars now earned will buy on an average 25 per cent. more than they did then. If there has been a decrease in the wages of labor since the date of the Aldrich report, it is that of the past two years, due to the closing of shops and factories by the Tariff law which Mr. Bryan helped frame and pass.

AN ODIOUS FICTION

Is the Neutrality Observed at the United States to be Sustained by the Imperialists?

MONDAY, Oct. 19.—The Imperialist says that Spain should demand from the United States an explanation of the dispatch from Washington published by the New York Times to the effect that the United States sends the way in Cuba by January 1, President Cleveland will recognize the independence of the insurgents. The Imperialist adds that the neutrality observed at the ports of the United States is an odious fiction and that there is a continual conniving at filibustering. It says the United States' consul general at Havana protected Spanish dealers at the port and concluded that Spain should remain alone in a conflict with the United States. Spaniards by their own efforts will know how to mark the difference between the noble defenders of their own property and the vile traffickers at Washington.

DEFALTER LEG

In the Hands of Sheriff Barnes, of Pike County, Ohio, at Vinton, B. C.—VINTON, Oct. 19.—The sheriff of Pike county, Ohio, arrived Sunday from Waverly to take back J. W. Legg, alias Manley, the defaulter treasurer of that county. Sheriff Barnes was obliged to go to Vinton, and during the interview Legg almost broke down. He stated that since his departure he had been tormented and had taken morphine and whisky to deaden his fears. He was glad to go back to Vinton, he said, and he would. He thought, however, he could find a portion of the money he had taken. The sheriff leaves on Monday with his prisoner.

CARNEY,
Headed by a Band of Six Desperadoes—A Forsaken in Pursuit.

GREENE, Oct. 19.—Ten of the desperadoes who were said to have been led by "Dynamite Dick," a pal of the late Dalton and Doolin, Saturday night at 10 o'clock raided the little town of Carney, 30 miles east of Greene. All the bandits were masked, heavily armed and dressed in dark clothes. The first store attacked was J. E. Fout's general merchandise establishment. Only Fout and his sons were in the store when the robbers rushed in, and they were forced to open the safe and hand over $800 in cash. The robbers then bound and gagged their victims and carried them out of town. While the remainder of the band was in the store the other officials got nothing in the way of plunder. In the hotel three men were relieved of $300 in money, watches and jewelry. Then mounting their horses they fled.

Two posses of United States marshals were immediately organized and started in pursuit. Two men, supposed to be members of the gang, stopped at a farm house Sunday morning and demanded food. Their horses were jaded and food, however, evidently having been ridges to the Spanish. The posses were close behind them. Carney is a town of 300 inhabitants and the robbers had their plan well worked, judging from the dispatch with which they executed them.

STEAMER PARIS

Arrives at Southampton in a Crisp Condition.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 19.—The American line steamer Paris, Capt. Watkins, from New York, October 8, before reported as proceeding with her starboard engine, reached Southampton Sunday morning. To a representative of the United Associated Presses, Capt. Watkins said that on the morning of October 8 the starboard shaft of the engine had been cut by the propeller. The vessel was at once stopped, and after an examination, it was decided to proceed for Southampton under the port engine. The Paris was then 35 miles from New York. In the afternoon of the same day the White Star line steamer Teutonic, bound eastward, passed the Paris. Later the Hamburg-American line steamer Forest Mariner, bound for New York, signed on with the Paris and went along side of her. The Forest Mariner offered to take the Paris in tow, but the offer was declined.

During the trip the Paris spoke 20 other vessels. The Paris completed her passage under her own steam, some averaging 13½ knots per hour, and she covered the course without a hitch.

AMERICAN WOOL

Over a Million Pounds of Wool Sold in England by the American Wool.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—United States Consul Meeker, at Bradford, reports to the state department that over 1,000,000 pounds of American wool was sold in England early in the fall at an average price of 75 cents per pound, and these sales would have continued, except for the advance in freight rates and stiffer prices at home, so that there are still large amounts held for sale in England. The American Wool Association made it known that the quality of this wool, which is of the short merino type, and the dealers complain that the British shippers selected the very worst they had to sell over to them. Sherif Barman, of New York, a wool dealer, says Morayen Bey, the Turkish Ambassador to the United States, is a gentleman like a Frenchman; a man of 45 or 50 years, and speaks English fluently.

TREACHERY,

Apparently Wide-Spread, Encircles Gen. Weyler.

Spanish Officials Supplying Patriots With Arms and Ammunition.

The Treason Apparently So Widespread That Weyler Hardly Knows How to Act.—Gen. Marin is Under Suspicion Also the Garrison at Guanabacoa.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—A special from Havana says:

A great sensation has been caused by the discovery that Spanish officials have been supplying the patriots with arms and ammunition. The treason is apparently so widespread that Weyler hardly knows how to act.

The greatest sensation is observed in regard to the matter, but it is said that the officers of the Spanish garrison at Guanabacoa, across the bay from Havana, are under suspicion and that Dr. Jose R. Sanabria, superintendent of the Spanish military hospitals has been arrested.

It is said that the deals with patriots were made through Dr. Sanabria, his position affording a good medium for carrying on the work. It is stated that the Spanish government has been informed of the plot to assassinate Dr. Sanabria.

The patriots are said to have paid liberally and Dr. Sanabria and friends are credited with receiving thousands of dollars for their treachery to Spain.

On the most prominent officers under suspicion is Gen. Marin, under whose command the Spanish troops are now in the city. Marin is accused of receiving a large sum of money from New Orleans to Cuba for the Spanish government, and it is charged that he has taken advantage of the opportunity to smuggle several cargoes of arms to the patriots, for which he received a large sum.

AMERICAN CONSULATES.

R. C. CHILTON Making a General Inspection

London, Oct. 19.—A representative of the United Associated Presses, Capt. R. C. Chilton, chief of the consular bureau of the department of state at Washington, who is staying at the Hotel Cecil, in the Strand, is inspecting the consulates in the United Kingdom and will start for Paris on Tuesday next for the purpose of inspecting the American consulates in France, after which he will proceed to Washington, the early part of November.

The general inspection of the consulates in the United Kingdom, Mr. Chilton said, had been very satisfactory. He had found the consular service to be efficient, but not as liberal as he had expected. He is to make a report to the department.

Mr. Chilton declined to specify any of the suggestions he would make in the master of reforms in the service, as these must be stated in his reports to the government.

JACK-ASS-ONIAN DEMOS.

WHAT TOLD HICKORY WOULD DO TO ALLEGED'S CROWD.

Times Star.

The Populists and other political what-is-itis, led by Altgeld in Chicago, called themselves Jacksonian Democrats and that, too, while they railed against what they styled the crime of Federal interference with local authorities. The clause was expressly directed toward President Cleveland for doing precisely what Congress and the Constitution expressly command him to do, viz., to protect the United States mails.

Witness the manner in which Don M. Dickinson, a true Jacksonian Democrat, scores this "Jacksonian" Democracy:

We find in the Declaration of the party platforms made at Chicago a statement in effect that the President of the United States cannot execute the Federal Laws; cannot execute the power conferred upon him by Congress and the Constitution of the United States, except by leave of the Government of the state, and this is declared, fellow-citizens—mark it well—this is declared by a body of people that came together at Chicago and declared that they were Jacksonian Democrats.

Why, gentlemen, in 1832, John C. Calhoun advised that a convention gather in the state of South Carolina to consider the question whether President Jackson could execute the law for the collection of Tariff, this high Protective Tariff, and to execute the Tariff law in the state of South Carolina. That Convention declared that the Federal Government, through its President, had no power to execute that Federal Law in that state without the leave of the Government of South Carolina.

What did Jackson do? These people call themselves Jacksonian Democrats, and I speak by the card. Before the latter end of 1832, Jackson ordered General Scott, then in command of the United States armament to establish his military head-quarters in the capital of South Carolina, in the first place. On the same day he ordered the two most powerful ships in the American Navy to Charleston Harbor. Next he ordered the troops of the United States available on the Atlantic coast to concentrate within striking distance of South Carolina. And he sent word to John C. Calhoun, not by public proclamation, but in private—they have been good friends before; he said: "You tell John C. Calhoun that if he persists in this treasonable advice to his state, by the Eternal, I will hang him higher than Haman."

If General Jackson were now the President, Altgeld, who calls himself a Jacksonian Democrat, might not be making speeches in Illinois save possibly through the bars of some Illinois jail?

Aguilera Reported to Be Marching With Strong Force From Janice

To Greet and Conduct Rodriguez Through Southern Havanas—Garcia and Ross Marching Puerto Principe City—Moving West From Concordia

New York, Oct. 19.—A special to the Herald from Havana, Cuba, says:

Sunday morning's reports indicate that while Captain Rodriguez, an exponent of the Maceo movement in the west, has advanced columns under Mayia Rodriguez, Rabi, Quindio, Banda and Pancho Carrillo, are laughing at the central troops and have swept across Santa Clara province with 10,000 men, the opposition and invaded Matanzas with four to seven thousand fresh recruits from the Orient.

Rodriguez is now encamped north of Almendral XII, near the line of Havanas province. Aguilera is reported to be marching with a strong force from Janice to greet and conduct him westward through southern Havanas, the western trocha south of Artesian, before the Spanish general, Gonzalez Munoz, can engage Macao at Cacara.

Almendral Garcia and Avila Rosa, with rebel troops are said to be moving toward Puerto Principe city, moving west from Casco by irregular marches toward Ciego de Avila.

The Herald's special to Ciego de Avila reports that a column of 400 insurgents crossed the central trocha near Jagua on the morning of the 18th, under a sharp fire from the Spanish forces. The rebels moved rapidly westward. It is understood that the Robin column is following up the invasion in Santa Clara simultaneously with Rodriguez's entry into Matanzas province.

The party crossing at Jagua did not make a stand. They made no response to the Spanish fire, treating it with contempt.

A filibustering expedition, composed of 25 men, arms and ammunition, is said to have started from the United States on the night of Oct. 14 on the coast near Punta del Indio, between Havanas and Jagua. The leader was unknown. It is understood that the party came from the Bahamas.

S. Valdez met and conducted the expeditionists to Gen. Aguirre's rebel headquarters in the interior.
